Gravel pit proposal sparks lively hearing

"Evidently gravel is a very emotional issue," observed Aldo Caira, chairman of the Wilmington Board of Selectmen.

A gravel hearing for a small parcel of land drew more than 30 people to the Wilmington Town Hall for a heated session on Monday night.

The permit is sought for the Schiarappa farm on Andover Street. The farm is in the extreme northeast part of Wilmington, adjacent to the town boundaries with Andover and North Reading.

The land in question is near a well field installed recently by the Town of North Reading. Now, that town is seeking to buy land around the wellfield to protect the watershed. The Sciarappa family owns some of that land.

The money that North Reading has offered Sciarappa for the land is very low, $600 for an acre and a half. In order to raise that figure, the Schiarappas would have to go to court. The ploy on the part of North Reading is known as a pro tanto payment policy, a low offer which can be appealed in superior court.

Instead of going to court, the Sciarappas seek to recoup their loss by selling the gravel off it before the Town of North Reading buys the land. The Town of North Reading has no objection to them doing so, because it will reduce the amount of money sought for the land, without harming the well field.

The objections come from the neighbors.

The land is near Foster's Pond, which could be described as a somewhat unspoiled area. Many people in the area feel that the gravel operation would harm the area, and contribute to a pattern of use that would have a significant and detrimental impact on the area.

Many of the persons present at the hearing Monday night were Andover residents. Foster's Pond is primarily in Andover, but access to much of the land on its southwest quadrant is through Andover Street in Wilmington. The area was formerly one of many summer camps, but in recent years many of the camps in the area have been bought by people seeking to live in an unspoiled area. Many of those Andover residents were at the hearing.

Immediately to the south of the Foster's Pond area is the Sciarappa farm. It is run by Joseph Sciarappa and his brother-in-law, George Thompson. The Sciarappa family has owned the farm for 55 years.

They have proposed to sell the gravel to George Morey and John E. (Eddie) Deloury. Deloury, a former Wilmington resident, now lives in Andover. He had performed a number of contracting jobs in the immediate area. Morey and Deloury also own some land which they bought from Sciarappa.

To remove the gravel, Morey and Deloury propose to come out through the Sciarappa farm onto Andover Street. The site of the proposed poeration is near Route 125, but that is a controlled access highway. The Town of North Reading has a permit for one entrance and exit per day for their pumping station, but gravel trucks could not operate under that permit.

Attorney Joseph Courtney, who lives within a few hundred feet of the proposed exit onto Andover Street, said that he would object to such a road. He said that he had no objection to the gravel operation itself.

Courtney proposed that the proponents of the gravel plan seek a state permit for an exit onto Route 125.

Jim Miceli spoke up for the Sciarappas, noting that anything the town has ever asked of them, they have done. He said that he generally voted on the facts, not the person, but that this case was an exception.

Representative Miceli said that he would be willing to work for access to Route 125 for the gravel trucks.

Selectman Jim Banda asked that the matter be tabled for study. "There were 18 statements made that I do not understand," he said.

On a vote of three to two, the matter was tabled.

Unified position sought on 129

Representative James Miceli Thursday night called for the people of Wilmington to take a united stand behind one route for the relocation of Route 129. He said that if the commissioner of public works thought that the people of Wilmington did not want the by-pass, that the money would be spent elsewhere.

Miceli made the statement during an informational meeting on the subject, held by the Wilmington League of Women Voters at Wilmington Memorial Library. The meeting was addressed by Walter Gustafson of the Mass. Department of Public Works, Norm Mitchell of the engineering firm of Barnes & Jarnis, Dan Gillis of the Wilmington Board of Selectmen, and Louis Maglio, Jr., chairman of the Wilmington Planning Board.

Gustafson said that the project was presently in the state of working on the final Environmental Impace Statement. It would then take three to six months to engage a design consultant, who would take 18 months to two years for his work. The construction would last for one and one half to two years.

"Your'e talking three, maybe four years, Gustafson said.

The tone of the meeting was quite positive, but there were many people present concerned about losing their homes or businesses.

The plays displayed at the meeting were ones that had been presented previously. There are three major options, numbers 6, 10 and 15. In addition, there are some "early start" proposals for Wilmington Center, which would allow a partial building of the project which would be tied in to later construction.

One of the options that had been mentioned at previous meetings was "no build." Gustafson said that it was only for comparison, and that it was not really an option.

But he said that there is a very high mortality rate for projects of this type, and said that it was quite important that a united position be taken.

Two speakers from the floor both pointed out the need for the town planning for the impact of the relocation. Mrs. Jean Pederson said that there had been planning for some kind of zoning in areas near the new road.

Mrs. Barbara Hooper mentioned that businesses that would be displaced by the project would need new locations to move to before their present locations were condemned.

Maglio said that the Planning Board had two reports on such planning, one from Metcalfe & Eddy, the other from Voorhis.

Dan Gillis spoke in very positive terms. "Don't worry about going out of business," he said. He asked for cooperation on the project. He said that he was hoping for leadership from the League of Women Voters "in the most strenuous manner."

"Forget this no-build," he said.

The next hearing on the matter is to be held sometime after the first of the year.

That's history

Madelyn McKie reviewed the history of attempts to build a road to by-pass Wilmington Square. Her chart went back to 1855. League of Women Voters President Maida Eisenberg is at right.

Hardly thrilled

The Yentile brothers, Joe and Sam, do not wish to have their land split by proposed route number 6. Sam, gesturing to the map, said that he would rather lose his home on Lowell Street than have a road separate his house from the rest of his land. Bob Cain, in the background, lent a sympathetic ear to Yentile's points.

MBTA bus service stops Dec. 31

The end of the year will mark the end of and Reading. Route 136, from Malden to Wilmington be shortened to end in Reading. Also to be eliminated is the service to North Reading.

The MBTA, after surveys, and after consultation with the Wilmington town engineer, came to the conclusion that the bus service between Wilmington and Reading was (1) not popular, (2) not patronized and (3) not up to service standards. The analyzation process had been going on for the past two years.

That the bus service was losing money for years was obvious. Wilmington tax payers paid a part of the loss. The figure last year, from Wilmington's viewpoint was $11,894.

The bus service started sometime prior to World War II, supplanting a street car service which had been in existence from before the days of World War I. The Eastern Massachusetts Street Car Company in the 1900 - 1920 era had a network of trolley cars that provided transportation to every town from Worcester eastward. In Wilmington a line that ran up from Reading started at the Everett Station of the Boston Elevated, and ran to Grove Avenue. In 1912 that service was continued through to Lowell, after a long bit of legal difficulty, and it was possible to travel from Boston to Lowell without having to take the trains of the Boston & Maine Railroad.

The termination of the service at Grove Avenue, for many years, was the reason that many of the Irish-American families of Charlestown and other communities moved to the Silver Lake area of Wilmington and Tewksbury, first as summer visitors, and then as residents.

The present service goes to the Tewksbury - Wilmington line. It represents a part of the service that was bought by the Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority when the Eastern Middlesex went out of business, about 1952. Tewksbury, half a dozen years or more ago voted to discontinue the service, and the law was changed a few months later so that other communities were unable to do so.

Wilmington will still be serviced by the Boston & Maine passenger trains that service the railroad depot at Wilmington Square. A passenger count, made by the MBTA in March 1975 shows that 272 persons were boarding the trains in Wilmington on weekday mornings, to go to Boston. There is no reason to anticipate that train service will be discontinued.

Improvement of train service, not to Wilmington, but to the area, is seen from an announcement that $20,091 has been authorized by the MBTA Board of Directors for the design of a railroad station to be located off Route 128 in Woburn, and to be known as the Mishawum RR Depot. The work is to be performed by a Boston firm, as a supplement to a larger agreement for design services to improve stations on the Franklin Branch, to stations such as Auburndale, Wellesley Farms, Wellesley Hills and Natick.

Funding for the improvements as well as the construction of the new Mishawum station will come from an already approved $2.5 million Economic Development Administration grant, from the US Department of Commerce, according to MBTA officials.

The new selectman: Madelyn McKie

The Wilmington Board of Selectmen Monday night accepted the resignation of James R. Miceli as a selectman.

The board then proceded to elect Madelyn McKie of Woburn Street as Miceli's replacement.

"You come over here right now," the friend told her. "I want to take your blood pressure."

Mrs. McKie is quite excited to have been elected to the Wilmington Board of Selectmen, but is not overly optimistic about what she can accomplish in her three-month term.

"In three months, I think it would be unrealistic for me to aspire to too much, but I think I can make a difference," she said.

Her background in government begins at the local level, but carries into regional and state activities. Mrs. McKie was a member of the Planning Board from 1965 to 1970. Through that work, she became involved with the Metropolitan Area Planning Commission; she has been the town's MAPC representative since 1965. She also worked in the Subregion Intertown Liason Committee, a body of town representatives active in the late 1960's. That committee prevented the building of a Mid-belt highway between Routes 128 and 495, which would have come through Wilmington. She was also a member of the Mass Federation of Planning Boards.

In the 1970's, Mrs. McKie has been a member of the Wilmington Finance Committee, on which she served for five years, until about 14 months ago.

In 1976, she became involved in a management and public administration program at Northeastern University. During the past academic year, she took courses in that field. Simultaneously, she worked for the Town of Wilmington as a planning intern, then as planning director.

Working as a town employee gave her a different insight into the town, she said. Among other things, she became aware of the lack of communication between the boards and the employees who implement the policy.

Mrs. McKie was a candidate for selectman in 1975. She placed third in a field of four candidates seeking four seats. The tally was Gillis 1833, Caira 1648 and McKie 1496.

Somewhat ironically, Mrs. McKie's three month appointed term expires at the same time as those of the two men she ran against.

Mrs. McKie has been a very active member of the Wilmington League of Women Voters for many years. She was president of the League from 1963 to 1965. Until the present, she has been a member of the board of directors of the League. She will now resign that position.

Dear Captain Neilson:

I'd like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation to those members of the Board of Selectmen who displayed their confidence in me by appointing me to the seat vacated by Rep. James Miceli.

In order to show that I am worthy of their trust and confidence, I pledge myself to diligently serve the needs of the Town to the best of my ability.

To the Citizens of Wilmington: I will make every effort to represent your ideas, suggestions and opinions on the many important issues that face Wilmington.

Sincerely,
Madelyn A. McKie

Takes oath

New neighbors

Neighbors of the Paramount Manufacturing Company were at the meeting of the Wilmington Board of Selectmen on Monday night, with complaints about the newly re-located firm. The neighbors are upset to see 17 neon signs in the windows of the building, and they aren't happy about the lawn being turned into a parking lot either.

The firm has occupied a building on Middlesex Avenue in North Wilmington. The building was once occupied by a division of Avco, but has been vacant for many years. Vandals inflicted heavy damage during the vacancy, and it has taken several months to repair that damage.

Family night an annual hit

One of the more successful activities in the Wilmington School system takes place on Thursday night this week, when the West Intermediate School holds a family night from 7 to 10 p.m.

The idea of family night originated four years ago, and was an instant success.

The program is an evening of inter-action between the students and their parents. The school is opened up, and various recreational and constructive activities are run by teachers and parent volunteers.

The activities include wood projects, family volley ball, fancy flowers, and other craft projects. The activities literally fill every nook and cranny of the building. An annual update keeps the program fresh for parents who have more than one child in the school.

Ballroom dancing

The next session of ballroom dance classes in Wilmington will begin on Monday, December 5 in the North Intermediate School cafeteria.

The classes will run for a period of 10 weeks with each class lasting for one hour.

Beginners classes will be at 7 p.m.; advanced at 8 p.m. and intermediates at 9 p.m.

All couples wishing to participate in this popular adult program must register by calling the Rec Office at 658-6512.

Energy-Government meeting topics

Energy - a subject on everyone's mind as well as in the headlines every day is to be the topic of a League of Voters public meeting at Wilmington Memorial Library on Monday at 8 p.m.

The League of Women Voters of the United States is engaged in a two year study to "Evaluate sources of energy and the government's role in meeting future needs." The Wilmington League has joined forces with the Andover League in this second year of the study.

Gail Anderson of the Andover League's Energy Committee will be the guest speaker at the meeting. She will review energy options based on League work in the first year of the study.

Areas in which the League hopes to reach agreement this year involve the energy growth rate by the year 1985-2000; what energy sources should be concentrated on, i.e. gas, oil, nuclear, solar; and what should the government be doing about energy problems.

Each time we turn on a light switch; turn the key in the car ignition; or hear the oil burner switch on we are reminded both of the high cost and the dwindling resources of the energy we are using. LWV is deeply committed to joining with other groups in any attempt to solve these problems.

The public is invited.

Industry Week award for Sam Shapiro

Samuel Shapiro, president of Sweetheart Plastics, Inc., in Wilmington has received Industry Week magazine's first annual Excellence in Management Award.

The award was presented at a luncheon at the Plaza Hotel in New York on Friday, November 4, and announced in the November 7 issue of Industry Week.

Shapiro was cited for excellence in maintaining and improving labor-management relations at Sweetheart Plastics, a division of the Maryland Cup Corporation, headquartered in Wilmington.

The presentation was made by Patrick B. Keefe, Industry Week publisher, who said "We have always believed that a company can be no better than its management. And a management team takes its lead from the chief executive officer and can only be as good as that person allows it to be. This award is given in recognition of an executive who has devoted himself to achieving a true standard of excellence in American industry."

Shapiro received the award for his company's employee relations program, which is based on a highly personalized approach. "Twenty years ago, when we were a small company trying to survive, it was easy to maintain a stimulating, rewarding work environment for our employees - where each person knew that his contribution was appreciated and his special talent recognized. Now, we have more than 2,000 employees in five manufacturing plants across the country, and we work very hard to create the same work environment, so that each of those employees can have the same feeling of participation, accomplishment and recognition that our 'pioneers' had 20 years ago. Our goal is to 'grow big and stay small' to be sure that size in numbers and complexity in our corporation don't de-personalize the relationship between our company and its employees. And, we work as conscientiously and fervently toward that goal as we do to increase sales, productivity or any other element of the business.

Sweetheart Plastics division of Maryland Cup is a manufacturer of Single-Service dinnerware for the institutional food serving market and disposal food packaging containers for dairies and food processors.

Industry Week is a national business publication which serves more than 230,000 management readers in broad industrial classifications, utilities and the financial community.

Representative Miceli

James R. Miceli has now been a state representative from Wilmington and Billerica for a few weeks. He is still to be considered a freshman legislator.

He has made a few observations which may be of interest.

One thing he will not do, he says, is to sit on a committee which is considering rules, or anything else relative to the insurance company. This is because he is in that industry, and to sit on such a committee, he feels, is to be in a conflict of interest.

Miceli made that observation after serving for a while on the Committee on Education. He was amazed to find that on that committee were representatives who, in private life, were professional educators. He feels that there may be a conflict of interest.

Miceli says he has observed a tendency on the members of that committee to want more school buildings.

This column was not in favor of the action of Miceli, Monday night, in submitting a resignation as a selectman of Wilmington. He had made that a part of his campaign, it is said, and he was thus fulfilling a political situation.

Any community which can have a mayor or a selectman serving as a legislator in the state house can be in a better position vis-a-vis its chances for good legislation. To have a legislator who is conversant with the home community is better than having one who is not.

It probably would have been to the advantage of Wilmington to have retained Miceli as a selectman, while he is serving in the state house.

Election conduct draws protest

Although nobody challenged the election of Madelyn McKie to the Board of Selectmen on Monday night, there was some controversy regarding the manner in which the election was held.

Chairman Aldo Caira was alone on the board in his protestations of the conduct of the election, but he was joined on the topic by George Hooper. Hooper, the chairman of the Wilmington Housing Authority, has been a candidate for the Board of Selectmen many times.

The fact that Jim Miceli was planning to resign his position on the Board of Selectmen was readily known beforehand, but no formal notice of the vacancy had been posted. Yet, there is no legal requirement for such posting.

Early in the meeting, Miceli passed out a statement to the press, and he then read his statement, shortly after 10 p.m.

Miceli's fellow selectmen each praised him, and expressed sorrow at his leaving.

Miceli then took a seat in the public portion of the meeting room, and Dan Gillis asked that nominations be opened for a replacement for Miceli.

Caira said that he would prefer to leave the seat open. He said that if it were to be filled, it should be by the runner up in the last election. He mentioned Bruce MacDonald, but did not nominate him.

Caira said he had the minutes of the meeting from last year when a school committee vacancy was filled, by appointing the runner-up. He said that the other selectmen had agreed to this policy at the time, and that it should be adhered to at this time.

Banda said that the School Committee was one issue, and that this was another.

"I don't think any board should go with a vacancy," he said. He pointed out that when the late Charlie Black was dying, the board had gone for months with a four-man board. Many times, the vote was two to two, he said.

Caira again said that the job should be filled by the runner-up. He then said that he thought the people of the town should be aware of the politics.

Gillis objected to such a reference, saying "Now we're getting in the gutter, like Tewksbury!"

George Hooper spoke up from the floor, saying that he thought that the public should be made aware of the vacancy. He acknowledged that the person appointed would have the edge in the next election, but agreed with Caira that the runner-up in the last election should be elected.

He said that in the interests of fairness and democracy, the vote should be held at a later meeting. He asked that the matter be put to town counsel.

Banda became irked, saying "I think the Board of Selectmen knows exactly what its doing. I don't think George should come in and tell us what to do."

Banda said that the matter did not have to go before town counsel.

John Imbimbo then nominated Madelyn McKie. Gillis seconded. The vote was three in favor and one not voting, that being Caira.

Hooper then commented "What a bag job." Caira also expressed displeasure at the situation.

Hooper then congratulated Mrs. McKie, telling her that he did not object to her being elected, but only to the manner in which the election had been held.

After giving up his seat on the Wilmington Board of Selectmen on Monday night, State Representative James Miceli took a seat in the spectators portion of the meeting room. At right is George Hooper, chairman of the Wilmington Housing Authority, and behind him is Wilson Belbin, a member of the Wilmington Redevelopment Authority.

Bag job

The term "Bag job" is one that is tossed around quite loosely. On Saturday night, the youth group of the Congregational Church in Wilmington provided a working defniition of the term.

The Pilgrim Fellowship plans to take a trip to a retreat in Vermont in January, and the members are seeking to raise some money. So on Saturday night, they presented a ham and bean supper. After the supper, the members all donned paper bags for a "Chinese Auction." Youth Director Bob Jackson then "auctioned" them off to people willing to exchange money for a few hours work.

Chris Robbins provided the most imaginative bag, above adorning it with crepe paper pigtails.

Anthony DeFrancesco, a native of Wilmington, has been appointed head coach of the women's gymnastic team at Plymouth State College announced chairman of the Physical Education Department and Athletics, Dr. Douglas C. Wiseman.

DeFrancesco is currently enrolled at Plymouth State College in the masters in education program. He earned his bachelor of science at PSC in 1976.

Dr. Wiseman noted, "Tony is known for his outstanding performance in the gymnastics and intramural events during his undergraduate work at Plymouth State, and is respected throughout the state for his association and work with a number of gymnastics camps and schools as an assistant coach and staff member."

DeFrancesco was an instructor for the gymnastics program for the Plymouth Parks and Recreation Department. He has also conducted the Wings Camp in Waterville Valley, and was a staff member of the New Hampshire girls' gymnastic camp in Pembroke, N.H.

DeFrancesco has also served as an assistant coach to the mens' a and womens' varsity gymnastics at Salem (N.H.) High School.

A 1971 graduate of Wilmington High School, DeFrancesco was an enthusiastic soccor player. He also played the drums in the Wilmington High School band.

Known among his friends as "Dee", he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony DeFrancesco of 45 North Street, Wilmington.

Adult basketball begins season

Sullivan's, M&S Mobil cruise in favorites' roles

Sullivan's Insurance and M&S Mobil - the two favorites to finish 1 - 2 in the Adult Basketball circuit - lived up to their pre-season billing by sweeping to wins in the opening night of action at the TMHS gym.

Sullivan's sprinted to an early lead over the Branding Iron last Thursday night and survived a second half BI rally to post a 72 - 55 win. Former Boston State and Tewksbury High star Jimmy Meuse canned 25 points to pace the winners. Center Mickey Sullivan turned in 19 while his running mate Doug Anderson hit for 10 from the guard spot.

Shawn Warren was the main man in the Iron surge that faded in the second half. Warren finished with 10 points to help out teammate Tim Teague who led the way with 11.

In the nightcap defending champ M&S Mobil survived a shaky start to down the slow-footed Paint and Hardware crew 83 - 64. Forward Steve Catalano finished off the Mobil run and gun attack with 29 points. Gene Manley scored 18 while Barry Sheehan had a slow start with 11 points.

P&H chopped into the lead with a brief third quarter rally led by the tough inside board work of Mike Mangano and Chet Flynn. Forward Gary Jenkins was slowed by four quick fouls in the first half. The losers' big men had trouble producing the inside points as Mangano and Jenkins scored just 15 points between them.

Streak-shooting guard Dave Parola fired his way to 13 points to lead the losing attack. John Carlino chipped in with 10 points for Paint and Hardware.

This Thursday night (Nov. 17) Wang Lab opens its season with the 7 p.m. game against M&S Mobil. Tewksbury Paint and Hardware battles Sullivan's Insurance in the nightcap at 8:30.

A A look at the teams and players in the local league:

1. M&S Mobil - The defending champs are back with basically the same team that has a way of getting the big defensive rebounds to trigger the fast break. They're tough on the offensive boards as well with Steve Catalano, Brian Irwin, Mike Zabawa, and Dean LaDoux handling the chores. The addition of big Len Gentile won't hurt this team's already strong frontcourt.

Gene Manley and Barry Sheehan are the guards and they can score a ton of points on their warm nights at the TMHS gym. Keith Caveney, Joe DelGrosso, and Tussy Russell are the Mobil men off the bench.

This team might not breese in many games this winter, but the advantage of having played as a unit for several years bolsters the flow of an offense that seldom beats itself.

2. Sullivan's Insurance - Jimmy Meuse has the talent to win at least five games by himself. The former Boston State player won't be forced to carry the load in every game with center Mickey Sullivan around to handle the inside battles along with an occasional pop from the corner.

Paul Stevens and Ken Meuse will handle some of the guard chores with lob-passing Doug Anderson contributing with his court savvy. Tony Coccoza's hustle and aggressiveness is a big help to the Sullivan's bunch.

The answer to this club's problems in many ways is Meuse. He'll play a lot of minutes and lead the league in scoring. He can swing from forward to guard along with being able to outjump most of the big men in this league. Jim's knack of improvising while in the air only enhances his jumping ability - and Sullivan's chances for an extended run at M&S.

3. Branding Iron - The Iron squad will be hurting without the unselfish team play of John Bachelier and Ron Magee. Center Dave Haskell will have his work cut out on both backboards with Tim Teague and Shawn Warren able to provide some help. Draft choice Warren was an important pick up for a team that needs inside help and the aggressiveness he can provide.

The points should be spread out among Doug Beecy, Buzzy Couillard, Rob Ahern, and Bunny Ahern. Rob is a small, sneaky forward with the reverse layup squeese move along the baseline being a big part of his offense. Bunny is a good outside shot while Beecy and Couillard will have nights when they can't miss.

4. Wang Lab - This team has good depth with a waiting list of prospective players. The scoring leader is former Dracut High star Russ Dufrense. The slick-shooting guard teams with center Art Harris (another former Middie) to pace the Wang attack. Lanky forward Jerry D'Auteuil helps on both backboards and hard driving former scoring champ Tom Stratigakis is also around to provide solid offense. Tom Fluet, Tom Powers, Tom Coomas, and Tom O'Neil, round out Wang's Tombrigade.

5. Tewksbury Paint and Hardware - The return of high scoring center Gary Jenkins will bolster the woeful offense of the former Red Mill bunch. Jenkins comes off a year of roundball at Middlesex Community College to team with draft choice Mike Mangano in what should be a strong front court. John Carlino, Chet Flynn, Ron Jackman and Rick Cooke make up that front line. The backcourt likes to put the ball up from all angles with Dave Parola being the ringleader there. Tony Solis and Bob Fowler are the other P&H guards.

Last year this team suffered through a nightmare 1 - 18 season that saw forward Cooke and guard Parola leading the spotty scoring parade. P&H has trouble on the boards at times, trouble against a pressing defense and the most fatal flaw - trouble playing defense.

Bedford downs Redmen 2-1

The Tewksbury High soccer season came to a typical hard-luck finish last Thursday afternoon when coach Steve Levine's Redmen dropped a 2 - 1 decision at Bedford after learning that their home field was soggy and not playable. It was the third time this year that the wet field had caused a shift in the TMHS booters' schedule.

The winners scored two goals in the second period as Mark Bruha and Chris Kleber beat TMHS goalie John Hurley who was filling in for the injured (dislocated finger) Mike Morgan.

The first half ended with the Redmen trailing 2 - 0. Hustling Mike DiGiorgio helped get his team on the scoreboard with one and one minuets to play in the game when he beat a Bedford defender to the ball at midfield and made a perfect pass lead pass to leading scorer Tom Flynn for the lone TNHS goal. It was Tom's ninth goal of the season. The Tewksbury senior had a banner year - finishing with three assists to give him 12 points.

The Redmen put good pressure on the Bedford netminder as the home squad held on for the win. Coach Levine lauded the work of Hurley along with fullbacks Ray Tremlett, Jim Maher, Mark Morin, and Bob Dascoli. Hurley's deep punts relieved much of the Bedford pressure.

The winners outshot the Redmen 12 - 11 with both goalies making 10 saves.

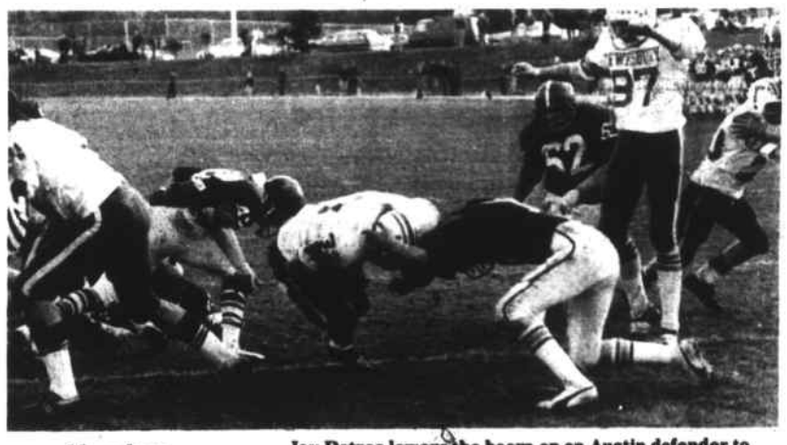

The team autographed the ball used in the first win (2-0 over Methuen) in TMHS soccer history. The ball will be place in the trophy case at Tewksbury High.

Levine reports that the 1978 soccer season is already in the planning stages with sign-ups next month for the BAYS (Boston Area Youth Soccer) program.

The league is made up of a B team (under 14), an A team (under 16), and an AA team (under 18). Those interested in playing in the BAYS circuit should sign up with Levine at the Junior High or Bob Whalen at TMHS. The number of boys signing up will determine how many teams are entered for each age group.

Chelmsford nips Squirt A's 3-2

The Wilmington Squirt A's dropped a 3-2 squeaker to Chelmsford last Saturday. It was wide open, up and down hockey for three periods, with both teams checking solidly.

Wilmington broke on top with Dave Buzzell poking home a Tom Craig rebound at 9:36 of the first period. The lead stood for four minutes as Chelmsford caught the B;s defense in a change after the Squirts killed off a penalty.

Early in the second period Chelmsford took a 2 - 1 edge only to see an instant replay of the first Wilmington score. Bill Woods moved the puck up to Tom Craig, who put another good shot on goal as Dave Buzzell was there to bang home his second goal. The score hung at 2 - 2 until, with five minutes left in the game Chelmsford forced a loose puck at the Wilmington cage and scored the 3 - 2 win.

The next Squirt A game will be November 19 at 1:30 p.m. against Framingham at the Youth Ice Arena.

Bantam A's improve

The Bantam A's upped their record to 8-3-3 in their latest games with Billerica and Burlington.

November 10: Thursday night Billerica jumped to a 2 - 0 lead with scores early in each of the first two periods. The A's finally broke the ice with three goals in four minutes late in the second period.

Rick Zambernardi scored the first goal assisted by Joby Duggan and Don Foley. This was followed a couple of minutes later by Brian Butler's goal on a rebound of a Gordon Smith shot. On the same shift Smith scored number three assisted by Foley and Zambernardi. Halfway through the third period Don Foley scored assisted by Duggan only one second after killing a four and a half minute penalty. Jeff Lux did a good job stopping 16 of 19 shots.

November 13: Burlington bombed the A's by a 7 - 1 score Sunday evening. In spite of an even shot split in period one, Burlington outshot the A's 15 - 2 and 18 - 5 in the last two periods.

Jeff Lux did an excellent job stopping 32 of 39 shots. Wilmington's only score came on a blue line shot from Joby Duggan assisted by Keith Ford.

Next games, Thursday at 6:45 p.m. at Wilmington vs Medford and Sunday at the Ice Palace at 4:40 p.m. vs Winchester.

Squirt B's split

In action in Wilmington this week the Squirt B's split - winning against Somerville 5-2 and losing to Manchester 8-2.

Chris Athanasia started the scoring against Somerville with the assist going to Tom Bachand. Late in the first period Eric Ouellette scored, assisted by Steve Zuccaro.

Somerville scored two goals to tie the game up in the second period. Wilmington put a lot of pressure on in the third period and came up with three goals. Mike Stuart had two and Steve Zuccaro the other with assists going to Tom O'Reilly, Eric Guellette, Dave Needham and Jay McFadyen (two). The B's lost to a powerful Manchester team going down to an 8-2 defeat. Once again the B's never gave up, coming back in the third period on scores by McFadyen from Jeff Brennan and O'Reilly and Jeff Brennan from Needham and Newhouse. Tom Bachand, Steve Hunt, and Eric Ouellette continued their hustling play on the front lines.

Wilmington later blanked Lexington 6-0 in the Middlesex Youth Hockey League.

The B's dominated the game with strong skating and hard checking. Stuart scored the first goal from Sean Brennan and McLaughlin. Jay McFadyen then put a pair of goals on the scoreboard with Dante DeMarco and Jeff Brennan assisting on one and DeMarco and Tom O'Reilly setting up the other. At the end of the second period DeMarco scored unassisted. McLaughlin put one in the cage on assists from Sean Brennan and Stuart. Ralph Newhouse banged one in from the point to close out the scoring with an assist to Chris Athanasia. The goal tending of Brian Surrette and Kevin Sutton was air tight in both games.

Veterans' tribute

Bits & Pieces

To be featured

Joseph A. Leary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Leary, 42 Grace Drive, Wilmington will be a featured vocalist on December 1 at 8:15 p.m., when the Berklee Male Chorus is presented at the Berklee Performance Center in Boston.

Joseph is a junior at the Berklee College of Music. Tickets for the concert are available at $3.00 apiece at the Berklee Performance Center box office, Mass. Ave. at Boylston.

Good news

Fred Burnham of Birchwood Rd., Wilmington has returned home from Woburn Rehab Center, a week ahead of schedule.

Mr. Burnham recently underwent surgery at Burbank Hospital in Fitchburg, where he was confined for nearly a month before being transferred to Woburn. It was expected that he would be at the Rehab Center for three weeks, but he progressed so well he was released at the end of two weeks.

Although he will be moving around on crutches for a short while, Fred is feeling fine and would be happy to hear from his many friends.

Additional birthday

Hazel Huggin of 14 Champion St., Tewksbury, almost, but didn't quite slip her November 9 birthday by unnoticed.

Jim Miceli Jr.

The son of Wilmington's state representative is a patient in Winchester Hospital. Jim Miceli, Jr., was admitted on Sunday morning with an infection to an arm injury. His father reports that as of Monday, he was "raring to go," but that he would probably be in the hospital for a week.

Jim is a 14-year-old freshman at WHS.

Elected treasurer

Ralph Conserva of Chester St., Tewksbury has been elected treasurer of the Greater Lawrence Chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Singing in America.

The recently elected officers will serve during the group's 14th year of barbershop singing and their immediate goal is to grow to a 50 man chorus.

Back in stride

Major surgery late in March forced World War One veteran Gus MacFeeley of Burnap St., Wilmington to ride in the Memorial Day Parade. This was the first time in a long, long history of participation in patriotic activities that Gus had ever ridden the parade route....he always walked.

Last Friday's Veterans' Day parade, however was a different story....Gus was back in stride again and marched with his collegues to the common....and a "spirited tip of the old fedora" is most certainly in order.

She deserved it

Bonny Smith, secretary to Dick Tufenkjian at Sweetheart Plactics, was named "Secretary of the Day" on Wednesday, November 9, by WHDH radio's Jess Cain.

She received a beautiful floral arrangement and other gifts from the radio station not to mention phone calls from many, many Wilmington residents who know her and her family.

According to one who should know, Bonny is a crackerjack secretary and fully deserving of the honor.

At Wentworth

Wilmington resident Mark E. Chester of Chestnut St., is among students enrolled at Wentworth Institute of Technology Evening Division in Boston for the 1977-78 academic year.

Luncheon-Blitz

On Thursday, Nov. 17 the Ladies Sodality of St. Dorothy's Church will conduct a monthly luncheon and blitz.

Lunch will be served from noon until one o'clock at a cost of 99 cents and will be followed by blitz until three. The events will take place in the lower church hall and the public is invited.

Skirts 'n Flirts

Retiring caller Joe Portelance, in what may be his last call for the local club was joined by Steve Davis and round caller Norma Findlay.

Representative groups from square dance clubs in surrounding communities were on hand to join in the festivities including the Lancers of Salem who were very instrumental in the successful first year of the Skirts 'n Flirts.

New officers

Angus MacFeeley, president; Gladys Babine, vice president; secretary Nellie Thompson; treasurer Vera Rothwell and Chaplain, Elsie Eaton.

Named to serve on the executive board were: Joe Cunningham, Sr., John McCauley, Bernard Eaton, Mary White, Helen Durkee, Helen Bennett and Nora Connor.

Open to the public, this competitive shoot will be starting at 9 a.m. on the club grounds where there is ample parking.

For further information call 272-1537.

Broken toe

Mrs. Gloria Galinis of Edgar Ave., Tewksbury is recuperating from a broken toe on her right foot which she suffered while working with husband Tony, setting up tables for a recent church supper. It is expected that it will be about three weeks before Mrs. Galinis will be dancing again.

Attended convention

Mrs. Peavey has a party

Edith Peavey is a lady of 75 summers, who lives on Grasshopper Lane in Tewksbury. A couple of weeks ago she turned 75, and her young folks thought it would be nice to have a party.

So they hired a hall - the Branding Iron, in fact. Over 100, all friends and relatives, came for that party. There was an orchestra. It was a buffet dinner, and the festivities didn't end until about midnight.

Edith loved it - very much so. She helped to close the Branding Iron, that night.

Then there was a little Post Party, at the Parke home on Sesame Street, in Tewksbury. Edith was there too.

After all, a lady is only 75 once! Might as well enjoy it.

Edith and family

Briggs, Robarge lead way

Sophs shift WHS offense into gear

And the children shall lead them. Sophs Chris Briggs and John Robarge sparked the Wilmington football offense last Saturday in the Wildcats' 12 - 0 win at Lawrence Central.

The soph-led offense rolled up 327 yards total offense - 184 passing and 143 rushing:

The defense held the Red Raiders to just 30 yards for the game - including a minus eight yards on the ground.

Briggs and Robarge both had fine days with Briggs (14 carries-56 yards)scoring both Wilmington touchdowns. Robarge finished 12 for 20 for 184 yards in his second start as the Wildcat signal caller. John stepped in in the second half against Dracut when senior Steve Woods was sidelined with a sore shoulder. Steve has since moved back to his original wingback position.

The Cats scored both their touchdowns in the second quarter. After a CC punt WHS moved 75 yards in nine plays. Two runs by Senior Jim Bibeau, plus grabs of 20 yards apiece by Art Sugrue and Briggs moved the ball on the eight. A Bibeau bolt for the TD was then wiped out by a holding penalty.

On the next play Robarge hit Briggs for a 20 yards and the first WHS touchdown. Briggs' kick conversion try was low and Wilmington led 6 - 0.

Ten plays later Briggs scored his second touchdown from five yards out. The big play of the march came on third down as Sugrue hauled in a 17 yard Robarge aerial for a first down. The Wildcats held a 34 - 14 edge in first half scrimmage plays with the Raiders picking up just five yards total offense.

In the third quarter Sal Carbone and John Fahey intercepted passes and the offense got as close as the Central 17 before bogging down.

The final period was much the same as the Cats banged away only to come up short. WHS wasn't forced to punt in the game - a sure sign that an offense is clicking. Both the junior varsity and freshmen squads won last week with the JV's finishing 4 - 4. The frosh close out another successful campaign on Friday with a home tussle with Tewksbury.

Coaches Tildsley and Olson have turned the frosh program around over a two-year period.

Coach Fred Bellissimo has a shot at another winning season Thanksgiving morning in Tewksbury. He hasn't had a losing fall since 1965. The Wildcats (4-4-1) and the Redmen (7-2-0) begin their annual Turkey Day war at 10 A.M on the refurbished Center School Field. Tewksbury has a chance at an MVC quad-title if Dracut and Chelmsford lose. The Redmen are looking to avenge last year's 32-0 nightmare that gave WHS a piece of the MVC title. The Wildcats have yet to defeat a team with a record over the .500 mark.

Eastern Mass Tournament

WHS teams bow out

The Wilmington High soccer and field hockey teams bowed out of Eastern Mass tourney play last week. Coach Bill Peabody's soccer team was whitewashed by powerhouse Foxboro 3-0 last week in Foxboro and coach Jan Cassidy's field hockey girls went down 5-1 to a rugged Hamilton-Wenham team last Thursday afternoon.

Unbeaten Foxboro improved its record to 13-0-2 against the 12-4-1 MVC Wildcats. Wilmington would never get their offense untracked against the swarming Foxboro defense. MVC scoring leader Dave Sousa had a goal nullified on penalty in the first period that saw Wilmington quickly behind 2-0. Gary Marves and Foxboro star John Stather had the goals for the leaders. Stather scored an incredible 34 goals this season giving him 106 for his career.

For the field hockey squad it was their fourth loss in four post season appearances. Wilmington led 1-0 in the first half when junior scoring star Cheryl Cushing sticked the ball by the Hamilton-Wenham netminder. It was downhill from that point on at Hamilton with the winners penetrating the WHS defense for five goals.

WHS can look forward to next year when high scoring juniors Cushing and Janet Zambernardi return to the fold.

Rushing leader

Wildcat sophomore halfback Chris Briggs (24) breaks a tackle with some help from Tom Bavota (77). Briggs picked up 54 yards and scored two touchdowns as the WHS offense came to life with a 12-0 win at Central Catholic Saturday.

Spring MVC All-Star

WHS cross country ace Dana Spring has been named to this year's Merrimack Valley Conference cross country team. Dana was the leader of Frank Kelley's squad as the Wildcats posted a 6 - 3 record to finish in a five way tie for second place in the MVC.

Buckos, Arrowood battle for first

Bucko's 2-Bulldogs 0

Wednesday, Nov. 9: Mike Gracia opened the scoring with an assist to Russ Myers and then the goalies took over as Roy Anderson of Bucko's and Rod Frazier of the Bulldogs matched save for save until Gracia set up Myers for an insurance goal in the third period.

It was Anderson's third shutout of the season.

Fred F. Cain 3-Leo's Canteen 3

The Cainmen were up to their late heroics again as they spotted Leo's with a 1 - 0 lead on Alan Dunlevy's first period score; went ahead on Joe Robarge's two second period scores; fell behind on two John Davis third period scores and finally evened it up as Tom Walsh scored with just 45 seconds remaining to take advantage of pulling the goalie for a sixth skater.

Arrowood 5-Blues 0

Arrowood scored in every period led by Dana Mullarkey's two goals and single markers by Dave Carlson, Steve Neal and Snooky Lynch. Wally Neal had a good night in the nets to record his first shutout of the season.
